Subject: Hello from Imabari

Hi, Hiro,

I am in Imabari, Ehime now. One of my father's friends lives here and we visited his house. He is showing us around the city. And, Hiro, this place is cool.

First, we went to a towel shop.

YES, towel! I didn't know about it, but Imabari *is famous for its towels. Today about 60% of towels in Japan are from Imabari! In the shop I saw a lot of beautiful towel art. For example, the big cake and hamburger are towels. The shop also has a *towel-making machine. It makes towels very fast. I was very surprised. I bought a towel and put my name on it.

Yesterday we *went up the mountain and saw Shimanami-kaido. It's a long *bridge, *from *island to island, from Shikoku to Honshu. It was a *great view. I didn't try, but you can go over the bridge by bike! It is very long and it *takes about ten hours. Sounds like fun.

I love the food here, too. For example, I liked Imabari yakitori. This yakitori was unique. It wasn't on a *stick, but it came on a dish. It was very good. And last night I had a *roast pork bowl with eggs. I had it in a Chinese *restaurant, but this is a special Imabari food, I think. Here many people like it and some people travel to Imabari for it. I learned a nice word here tonight.

Oideya!

Your friend,

Ben
